Symbols,

Foreword

Without symbols in life, nothing would exist. Every person, place, or thing is a symbol which illustrates physically or renames mentally another image. Without sights, our eyes would be useless. Although vision is the most important sense, it can be utilized only when we have something to look at. Without sound, we need no ears or mouth, because communications would cease. Noise and talking would be non-existent. But life is living, not existing. Separately, each of these essential items contributes to our lives as human beings. Together, symbols, sights, and sound are the keys to understanding life and the universe.

Sights, And Sound

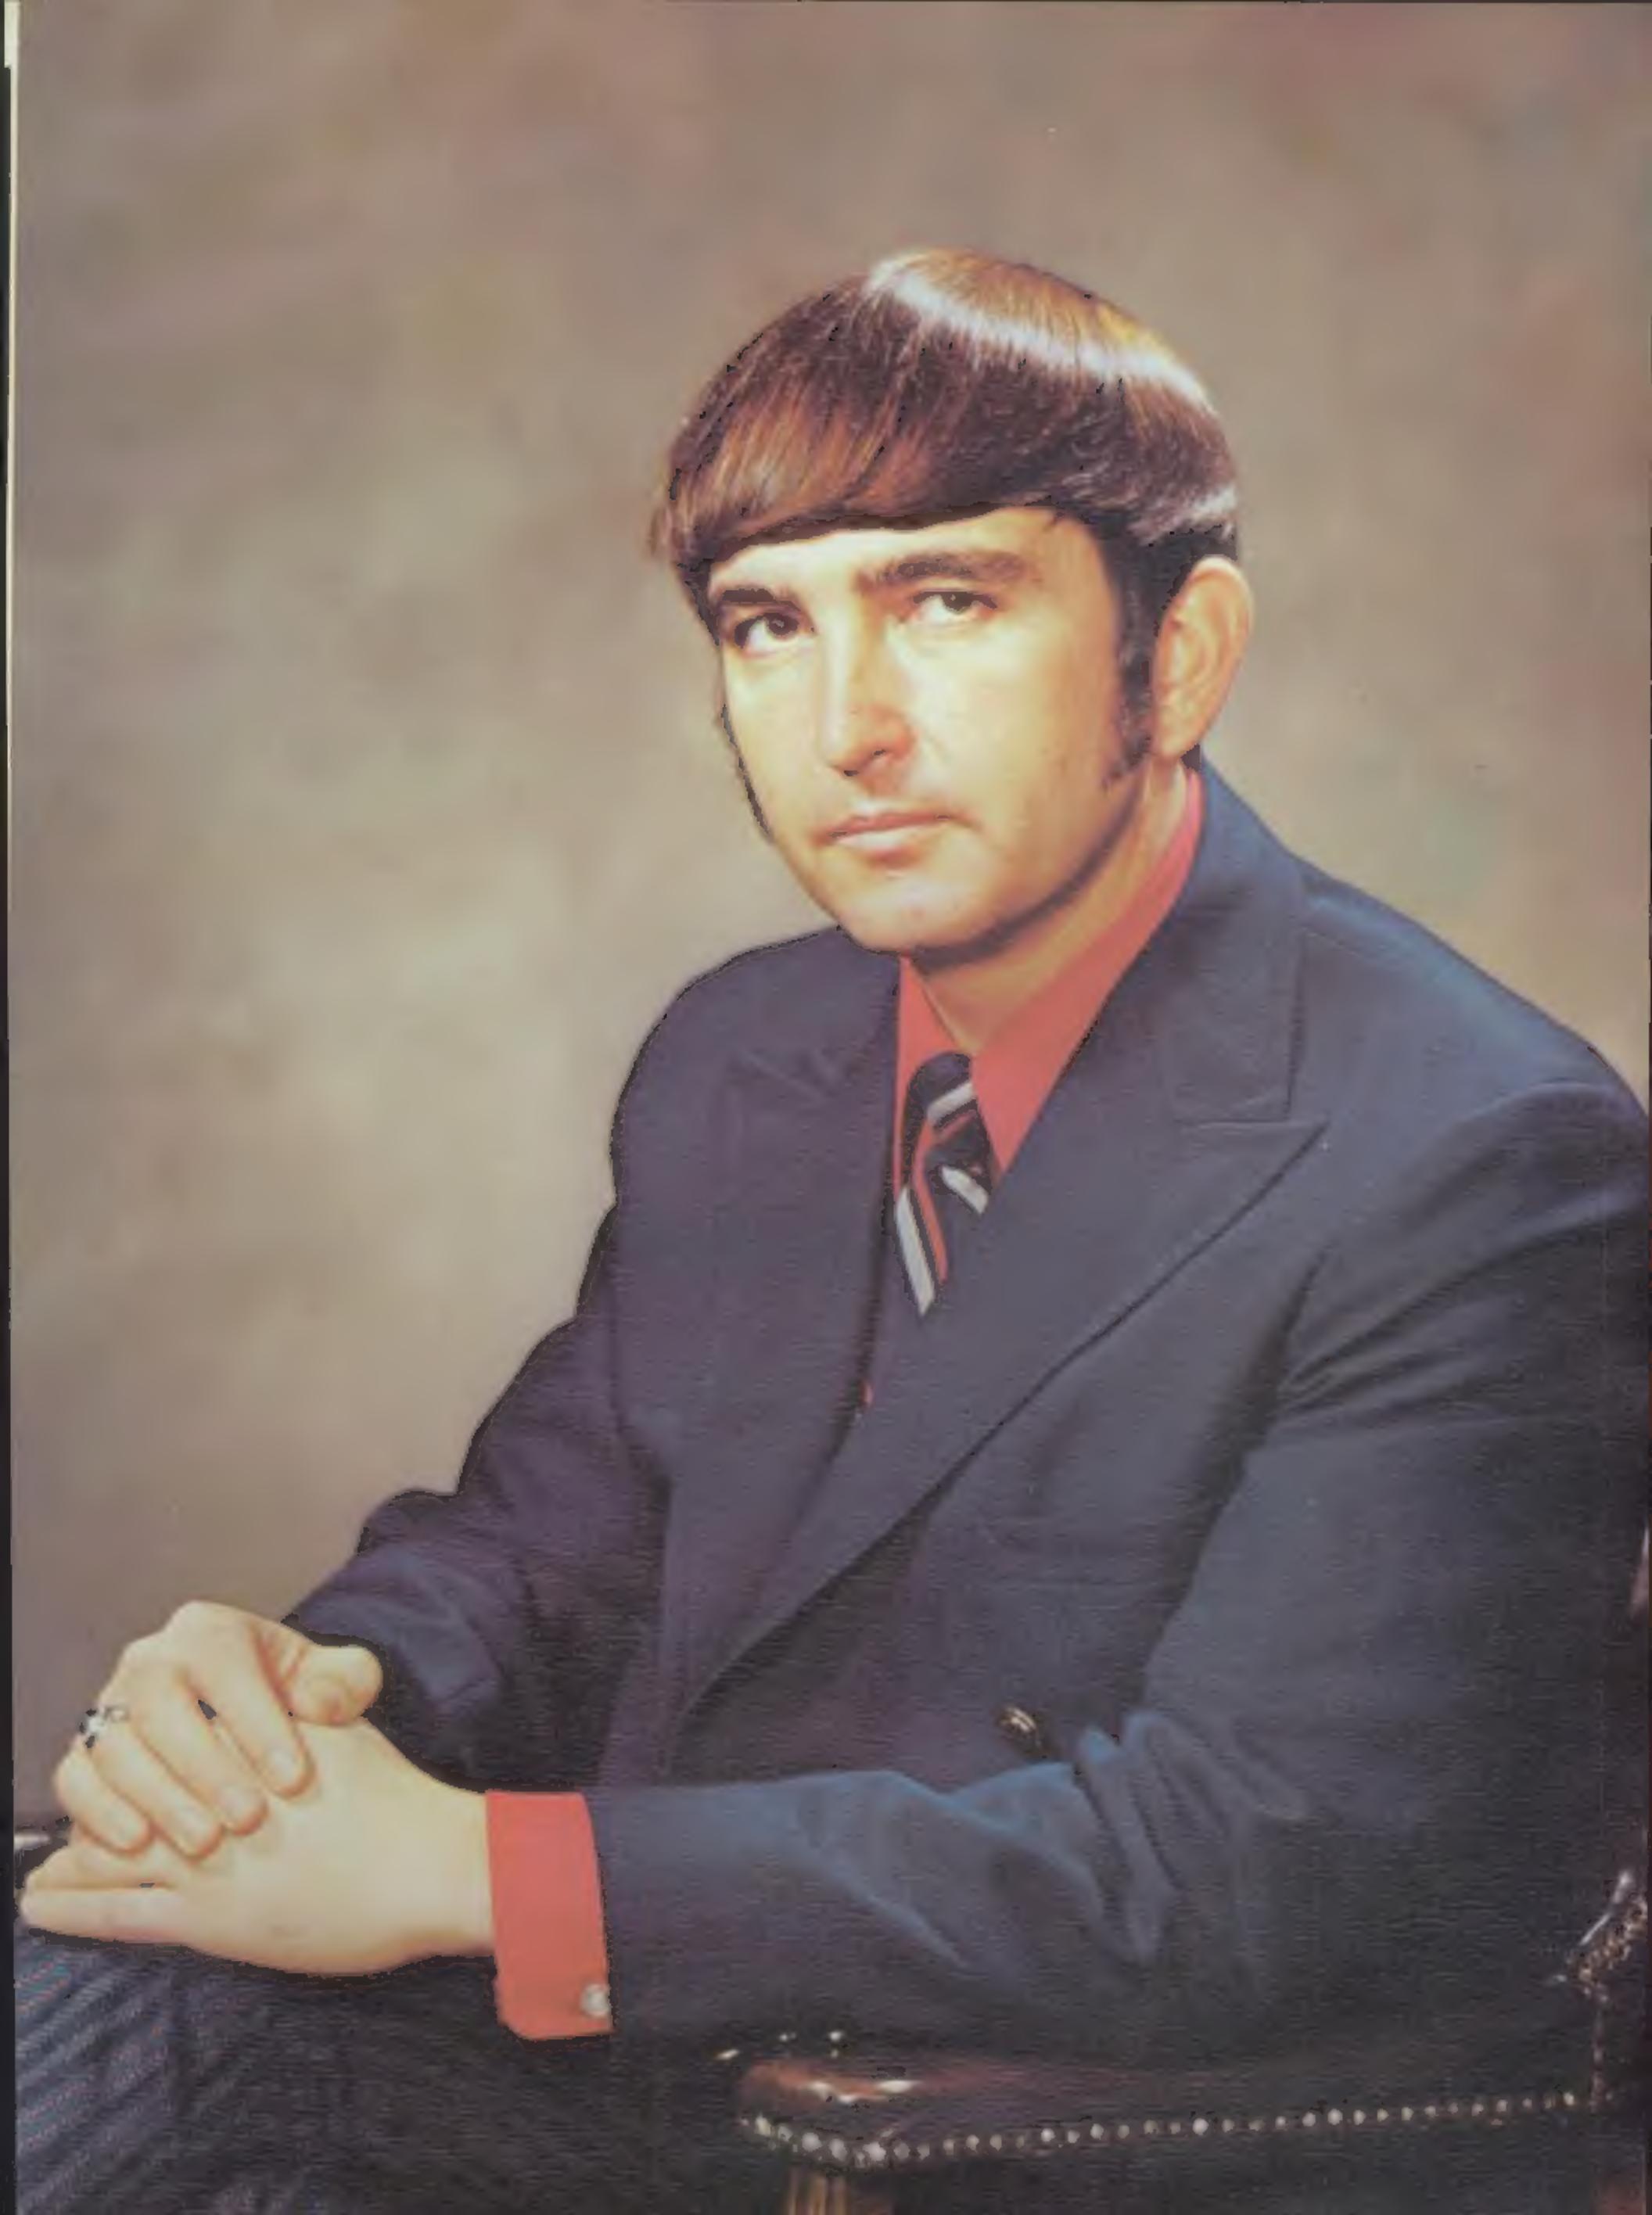

MORE THAN JUST A TEACHER: A Friend

As a tribute to a hardworking teacher, the Class of 1972 dedicates their yearbook to Mr. Jess Johnson. Mr. Johnson, advisor to the Senior High Student Council, has done much in the way of starting and continuing projects to benefit the school such as a new football scoreboard and the continuance of the Senior Lounge.

As a Driver Education and American Cultures teacher, Mr. Johnson conducts his classes by telling the students truths rather than falsehoods, because he realizes that students are people and not puppets. Knowing that character traits are developed at home first and then elsewhere, Mr. Johnson tries to emphasize the disciplines of society and driving in class as well as out of class. Mr. Johnson, in the opinion of the Senior class, has shown the leadership and guidance that makes a successful teacher — and a good friend.

We are a symbol — communicating through other symbols.

Familiar sights at school — communicating through vision for understanding.

An integral part of each day — communicating our emotions through sound.

Administrators Strive To Achieve

The School Board has provided the students of A.C.H.S. with School Facilities and a well-rounded educational and recreational program. In the past few years the curriculum has undergone many changes to provide more and better educational opportunities for the students.

Right: Mr. Richard Gingrich, our supervising principal, co-ordinates the activities of the entire school district in carrying out the policies of the School Board.

A Better School Environment

Left: In his fifth year as a member of the administration Mr. Coleman has contributed much of his time and many of his ideas toward improving the school.

Helping to supervise our school, Mr. Gingrich and Mr. Coleman are continually and effectively striving toward their goal of providing an adequate education for Annville-Cleona's ever expanding student body.

Mrs. Martin

Mrs. Moulfair

Mrs. Shay

Mrs. Strong

Few of the various duties and responsibilities of the administrative secretaries are known to the students of our school. These duties consist of ordering the various supplies needed by students and faculty, calculating payrolls, keeping account of the financial status of the school, assisting in the preparation of the school's budget, and preparing innumerable reports for the state and federal government. The fulfillment of these duties and responsibilities is essential for the functioning of the school.

Main Office Is

The administrative responsibilities of our school are held by our principal, Mr. Magill. He is in charge of many of the activities carried on in the school. He enforces school policy and acts as a mediator between the school board and the student body. One of the more demanding jobs that he must deal with involves the scheduling of the students' curricula. His consent is needed in order that clubs may carry out special activities, one of which is the scheduling of pictures to be taken for the yearbook. During the year he has endeavored to achieve a greater degree of co-operation between students, faculty, and administration.

In his first year as assistant principal Mr. Hook performed various duties such as supervising teachers and appointing substitutes for absent teachers. As athletic director Mr. Hook scheduled both the dates and places of sports activities and organized the annual sports banquet, which was held to honor the senior athletes. Being the administrator of disciplinary measures, Mr. Hook supervised detention hall and administered punishment when needed. Many other school functions and activities were also regulated by him.

Nucleus Of School

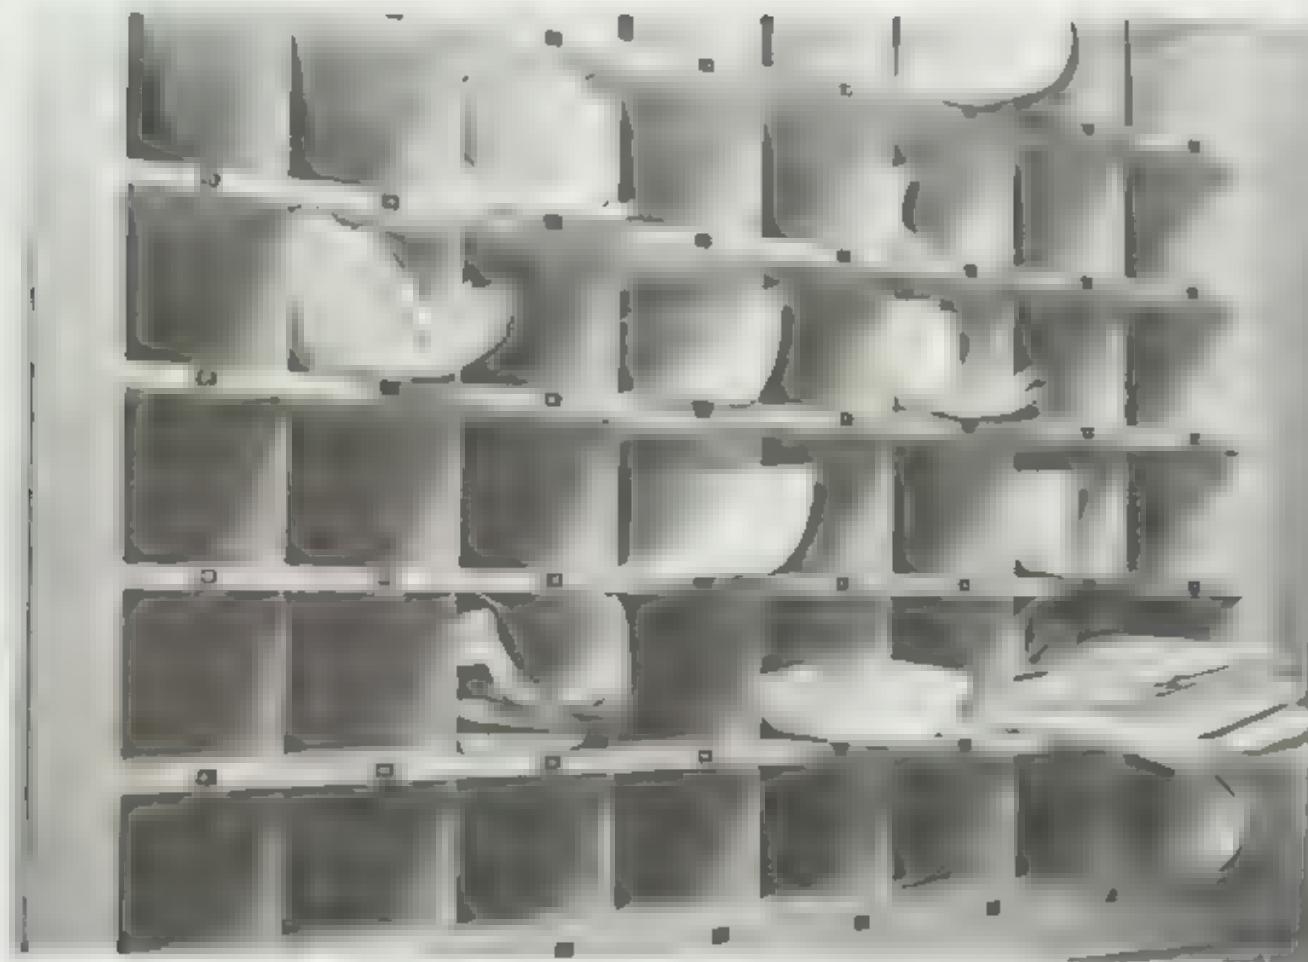

Mrs. Markey

Mrs. Meyer

The main office activities are conducted with the competent aid of its secretaries, Mrs. Doris Markey and Mrs. Nancy Meyer. They are often found typing forms, answering phones, and assisting students and teachers seeking information. They have the dubious pleasure of typing student's report cards every six weeks and preparing the attendance reports which are distributed to the faculty each morning. Since Mrs. Markey has the job of preparing the school's accounts she acts as the school's treasurer. Both secretaries also issue working papers or register students for the draft.

Recognizing Hidden Talents

Some important employees have unnoticed positions and their work is often taken for granted rather than recognized. One such person is Mr. Dole, who takes care of the audio-visual aides for teachers in their classes. Keeping projectors running and distributing films is often a difficult task. Miss Keene, the school nurse, supplies the band-aids and first aid services as well as keeping a record of each student's physical growth and any problems with sight or hearing.

Below: Mrs. Reich helps Becky Grant organize outside reading materials, a requirement for Miss McCullough's twelfth grade academic English sections.

RUTH KEENE
School Nurse

HAYWARD DALE
Audio-Visual Aides

By working with all of the occupational education students either individually or in small groups, Mrs. Brensinger, the occupational education assistant, is a great help to Mrs. Zimmerman. Mrs. Reich, the library assistant, has become a greatly appreciated help, assisting many lost researchers in the library. Mrs. Fees, the attendance officer, has many duties including daily attendance records, truant students, and office typing.

HELEN BRENSINGER
Occupational Education
Assistant

GAIL REICH
Library Assistant

RUTH FEES
Absentee Officer

ELVIN FAKE
Senior High Guidance
Counselor

RICHARD FORNEY
Junior High Guidance
Counselor

The Guidance Department has an enormous job to perform in school. This job is performed well by Mr. Forney, Junior High Guidance Counselor, and Mr. Fake, Senior High Guidance Counselor. Devoting much time to solving personal, educational, and social problems, Mr. Fake and Mr. Forney try to help the entire student body. Administering tests such as mental maturity tests, Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Tests, (PSAT), and National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Tests (NMSQT), are also an important part of their job. Because course selections compose the majority of the guidance counselor's work, selecting courses to be taught, checking each student's course requirements, and helping schedule classes are demanding jobs. Mr. Fake is responsible for helping students prepare for higher education, and is also responsible for transcripts of high school records and recommendations sent to schools and colleges. Mr. Forney is responsible for all the work involved in publicizing, screening, testing, and selecting students for the Vocational Technical program. Both Mr. Forney and Mr. Fake have done a great deal in preparing students for jobs and institutions of higher learning.

STUDENT-FACULTY ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The purpose of the Student-Faculty Advisory Committee is to receive referrals, problems which the Student Council feels should be researched and discussed by both students and faculty, from the Student Council. Because of a request by the Senior High Student Council, the Administration and Student Council jointly organized a Student-Faculty Committee. This year the Student-Faculty Committee accomplished a change in final examinations which are now optional and at most can count one seventh of the final grade. This change opens doors to possibilities of more improvement in Annville-Cleona High School, but to develop an effective educational institution takes the support of both students and faculty.

The custodians are responsible for the cleanliness and orderliness of Annville-Cleona High School. Devoting time and effort, they make the school more enjoyable for students as well as administration and faculty.

The Cafeteria Staff serves well-planned and well-balanced meals which satisfy everyone's appetite and helps sustain all through the long afternoon classes until it's time for an after school snack.

Running buses on a strict schedule, the bus drivers transport many students to and from school each day and drive buses for the countless number of field trips which are inevitably taken each year to educate students outside the classroom.

This year the FFA had their annual orange and bologna sales and also held an awards banquet attended by the members and their parents.

The members of the Parliamentary Procedure Team are: (left) D. Hoover, D. Shuman, L. Heagy, K. Diem, K. Kleinfelter, B. Hitz, Former Pres.; N. Heagy, S. Hitz.

These boys competed with teams from other schools in their parliamentary procedure. They won $100.00 first prize in the county contest, took first place in the area contest, and received a plaque for first prize in the regional contest. They also won first place in the state contest, for which they received a block and gavel and $300.00. With the money, they took a trip to Niagara Falls and the various state parks in Pennsylvania.

FHA Thinks Practically About The Future.

The Senior High FHA had several speakers to inform them of career opportunities, some of whom were from Met Ed and the Empire Beauty School. A sale of cookbooks increased their treasury. As a group the FHA visited the Farm Show in January. They sponsored a roller skating party at the Mt. Gretna roller rink in February and held a banquet.

The Future Teachers of America, advised by Mr. Martin, met on the second and fourth Fridays of each month this year. During one or two study periods each week, a number of the members attended classes in the elementary or junior high schools to assist teachers. In this way they were able to observe and gain experience in classroom situations. Meetings consisted of talks given by outside speakers, discussions, movies, and oral reports. Club members also served as school guides at educational conferences held at the school throughout the year.

FNA Explores Various Nursing Opportunities

Despite its small size, the Future Nurses of America Club continued to function, hoping to promote an interest in nursing careers or other medically associated fields.

Dorcas Graham, a registered nurse and 1968 A-C graduate, presented a program to the club of slides she had taken in Haiti. A nursing school representative addressed the club about the many facets of becoming a nurse. At one meeting the club viewed a filmstrip on the opportunities for nurses in the Peace Corps. A field trip to Lancaster General Hospital in April highlighted the club's activities of the year.

The Senior Tri-Hi-Y performed many services for the community this year. They contributed money to CROP, went caroling at the Hill Church Home and the U.C.C. Home before Christmas, presented an entertainment program for the Elizabethtown Crippled Children's Hospital in February, and played bingo at Cedar Haven in the spring. They also had a picnic for the entire club at the end of the year.

Right: Holly Kreamer, Dianne Bowman, Vicki Howard, and Sue Blatt discuss an end of the year project.

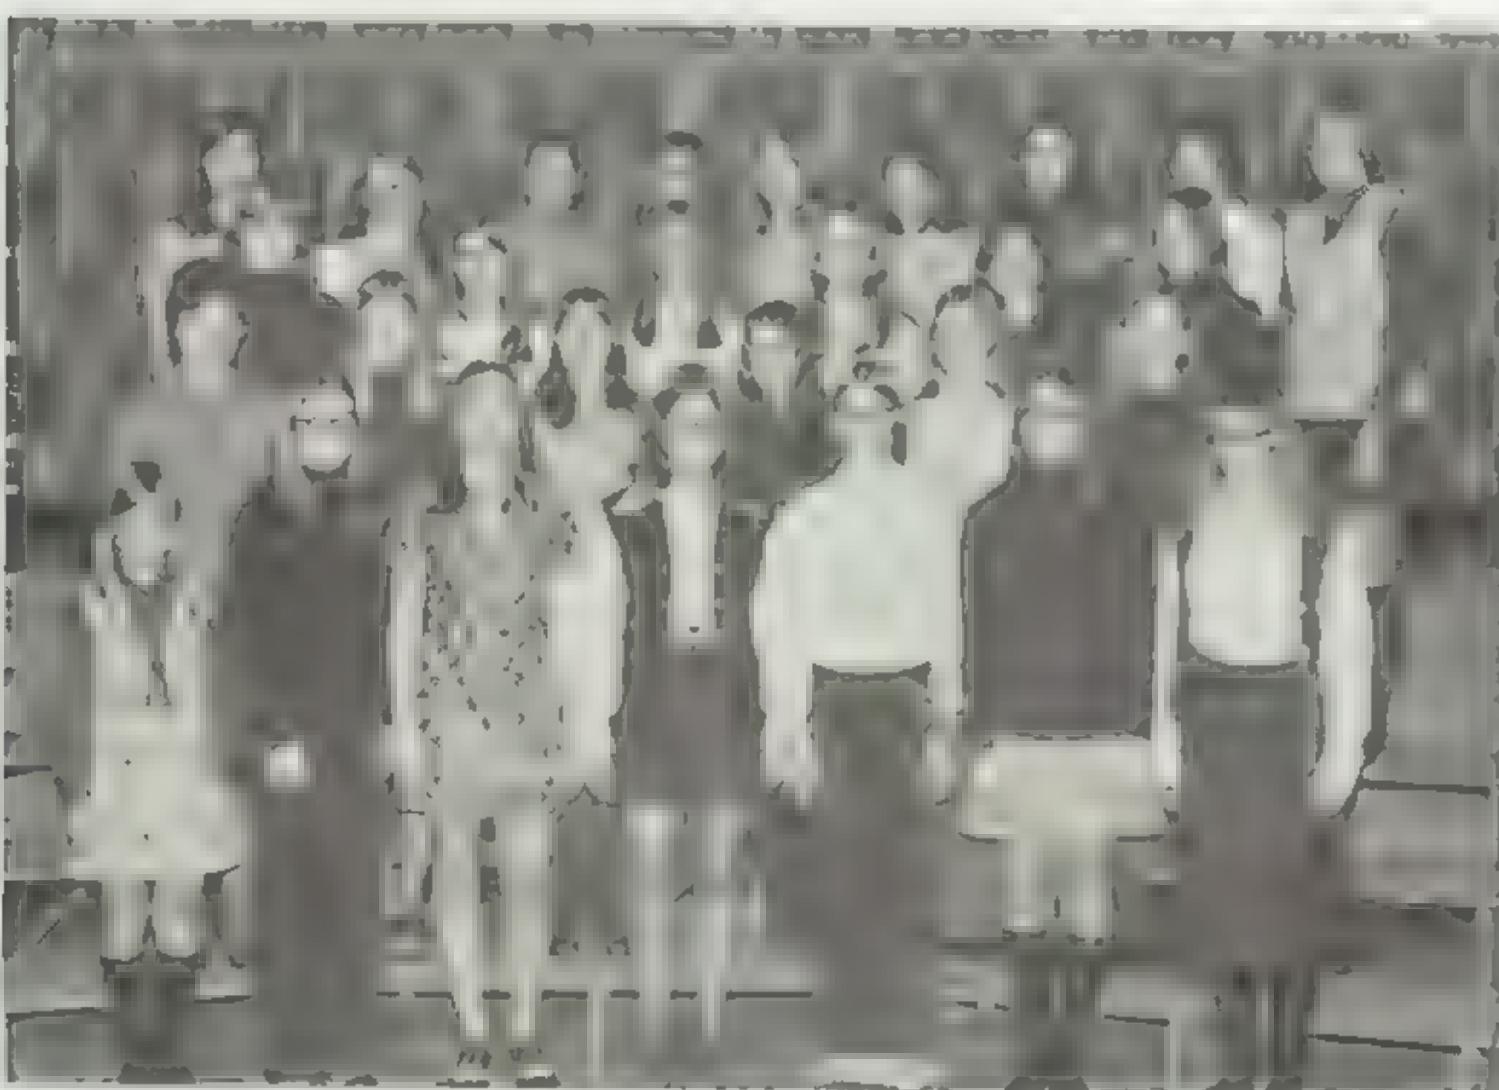

The Junior and Sophomore Tri-Hi-Y's also performed services to the community. The Juniors held a Christmas Party for the Day Care class in Cleona and collected money for the March of Dimes. The Sophomores played bingo and made Easter favors for the old people in Lebanon. They also held a dance at the school in the spring of the year.

"Shhh! You're In The Library"

Members of the library club are also assistants. The library club is an organization concerned with promoting interest in libraries and education. Annually they hold a Christmas party for the elementary special education students. They donate books to the library. The library assistants' job is keeping the library in order. They check in books and make sure that books are in their right places.

Leader Corps Members Participate In Gym Classes

The Leader Corps, a newly formed group, is a physical education club of which the main purpose is to promote both leadership and the acceptance of responsibility. This year Leader Corps members participated in regular gym classes, took role, directed drills, officiated games, and performed other jobs to assist the physical education instructors. In January a bowling night was held for Corps' members to attain unity within the club. As a service for the parents of the community the Corps sponsored an adult recreation night in April, and also sponsored a faculty recreation night the same month. In order to remain a member of the club, students must maintain a B average in physical education and a C average for all other classes.

A donut sale to raise money for the support of a foreign student highlighted the Honor Society activities of the 1971-72 school year. Under the leadership of the club advisor Mr. Greenawalt and president Jeff Hackman the club also performed many other services to the school. As in previous years the book store was opened for the use of all high school students. At Christmas members of the Honor Society decorated a large Christmas tree in the north lobby. An appointed committee also posted the bulletin board items every alternating week. The Honor Society went on a field trip to Millersville State College in March and ended the year with an assembly for the induction of new members.

Varsity Club Sells Football Programs

Under the direction of new advisors, Mr. Goudy and Mr. Hossler, Annville-Cleona's Varsity Club sold programs at the home football games. Proposed projects for this year included the purchase of red and white varsity jackets for all members and group attendance taken at the various professional sporting events.

Organization was the key factor to the success of the Yearbook Staff this year. Dedicated staff members worked two activity periods, countless study halls, and two nights each week to finish pages for the completion of the yearbook. Under a new publisher, Taylor Publishing Company, whose representative to Annville-Cleona High School was Mr. Edward Patrick, the staff incorporated full color and spot color into the 152 page book, a new contrast to the old black and white pictures. Part of the success of the staff this year had to be credited to Mr. Keefer, the staff's photographer from Uhler's Studio, and also the fine cooperation from all faculty and administration when mixed-up picture schedules and delays were time consuming but inevitable. Mr. Kline, the yearbook advisor, provided inspiration to help the staff meet week late deadlines by promising cokes to all staff members who worked long and hard.

Newspaper Staff Tells It Like It Is

Trying to concentrate attention on school life and activities, the Dutchmen Crier Staff focused on current events of the school and presented them in a comprehensive view to the students, administration, and faculty. Led by Editor-in-Chief Gail Garosi (top left) the staff organized a sub sale in which they raised $250 to pay the cost of publication for the paper.

Valuable Workers Behind The Scenes

Members of the Stage Crew worked diligently to prepare audio-visual aids for the assemblies and special programs given throughout the year. The crew also assembled props and flats for dramatic productions. Because the musical required stage props, special lighting, and sound effects, while choral concerts needed equipment such as spot lights and risers, musical productions were one of the busiest times of the year.

The 1971-1972 year was one of accomplishment for the Senior High Student Council. Working with the newly formed Student-Faculty Advisory Committee, the council formed a new policy on finals. Throughout the year the council sold candy, supervised the Senior Lounge, and held monthly dances. The members organized the Homecoming dance and provided decorations and refreshments for it. They also sold subs to make final payments on the football scoreboard, sold candy at home basketball games, and sponsored pep buses to away games.

Homecoming 1972

The second annual Homecoming and Coronation was held in the school gymnasium on October 11, 1971 at 8:00 P.M. Attractive centerpieces of brightly colored gourds, acorns, leaves and ears of corn created a crisp fall atmosphere, contrasting to the electrostatic sound of Saint Elmo's Fire, the performers for the occasion. The Homecoming court entered to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" as the moment of coronation drew near. Sally Shenk was crowned queen and Beth Biely as princess. Other members of the court included Cathy Marshall, Becky Grant, and Lisa Steiner. One hundred fifty persons attended this memorable occasion which was sponsored by the Senior High Student Council. Escorts for the event were Mark Wethington, Tom Texter, Paul Kreider, Dennis Leonard, Fred Daubert, and Gary Watts.

In spite of several sore throats, a few headaches, and many sleepless nights, the fall play "Ask Any Girl" finally got under way and was a big success. The play starred a girl named Meg Wheeler (Karen Hollowell) who moved to New York to find fame, fortune, and a husband. After many adventures Meg fell in love with Miles Doughton (Glenn Zearfoss), and they got married. Other characters who added a touch of humor to the comedy were Evan Doughton (Chris Edris), Mr. Wheeler (Bob Shellenburger), Mrs. Wheeler (Judy Trauger), and Meg's two dating aunts, Aunt Fern (Cindy Bowman), and Aunt Lettie (Renee Mushena). The play was directed by Mr. DeHaven.

This year's musical was based upon the famed fairy tale "The Princess and The Pea," the story of a princess who, because of her noble birth, was so sensitive she was unable to sleep on a bed of twenty downy mattresses when a single pea was placed beneath the bottom one. According to the story as seen on stage no one in the kingdom could marry until Prince Dauntless did so. Dauntless' mother, Queen Aggravain, however, saw to it that no princess who wanted to marry Prince Dauntless could pass the required royalty test. Winnifred, the swamp princess, was Dauntless' last chance to marry. The story took many humorous turns as everyone tried to outwit the Queen and find out the nature of the royalty test before it was too late to help Winnifred pass it.

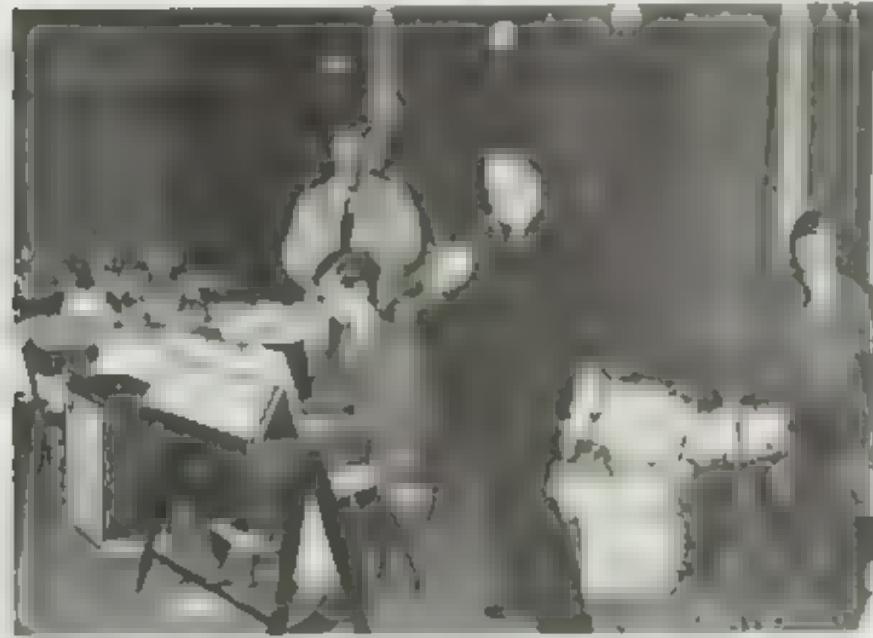

The musical cast consisted of forty students from grades ten through twelve. Two juniors, Deb Hoffman and Bob Shellenberger played the leading roles of Princess Winnifred and Prince Dauntless the Drab respectively. The Broadway version of the show starred Carol Burnett. The musical was directed by Mr. Donald Kline.

This year the Junior-Senior prom was held in the Treadway Inn Ballroom on May 5. Angel hair and flower arrangements adorned the tables, while music was provided by the New Jazz Quartet. Guests were warmly greeted by a reception line as they entered the beautifully decorated room, which was the result of careful planning by the Junior class. Refreshments were provided the entire evening by Mrs. Delores Wolfe. The prom was truly a night of "Lost in Memories."

Cross-Country Captures Fifth Place In State Meet

A-C's cross country team had an 11-1 record for the 1971 season and placed fifth at the PIAA State Meet on November 6. Coach Gerber remarked, "We improved greatly through the season." Dennis Leonard, four year cross-country star, took thirteenth place in the state meet, with Jesse Zimmerman placing twenty-first, and Dennis Hines, twenty-ninth. On October 30 at the District 3 Meet, A-C placed second to Solanco in a field of thirty teams. Placing tenth in this race was Dennis Hines, three year varsity award winner. First year letterwinner Jesse Zimmerman also medaled at the District Meet by placing fourteenth in the field of approximately two hundred forty runners.

Little Dutchgirls Wield Big Sticks

This year was the first year in the CAC League for both the varsity and J-V teams. The varsity squad finished in fifth place with a 3-4-5 record. Bev Chadwick was the team's highest scorer with seven goals, while Becky Grant scored two goals, and Jo Meyer scored one. Although the whole team's performance was commendable, their defense deserved special recognition for their outstanding job in making the season a successful one. Good luck to next year's team!

The J-V hockey team, aided by the experience of four juniors, also had a highly successful season. They finished league play with a 5-4-3 record. The highest scorers were Pat Kuhn with five goals, Shen Rauch with three goals, and Karen Unger with two goals. The all-out team effort displayed this year assures a successful team next year.

Soccer Team Strong Contender In York-Lebanon League

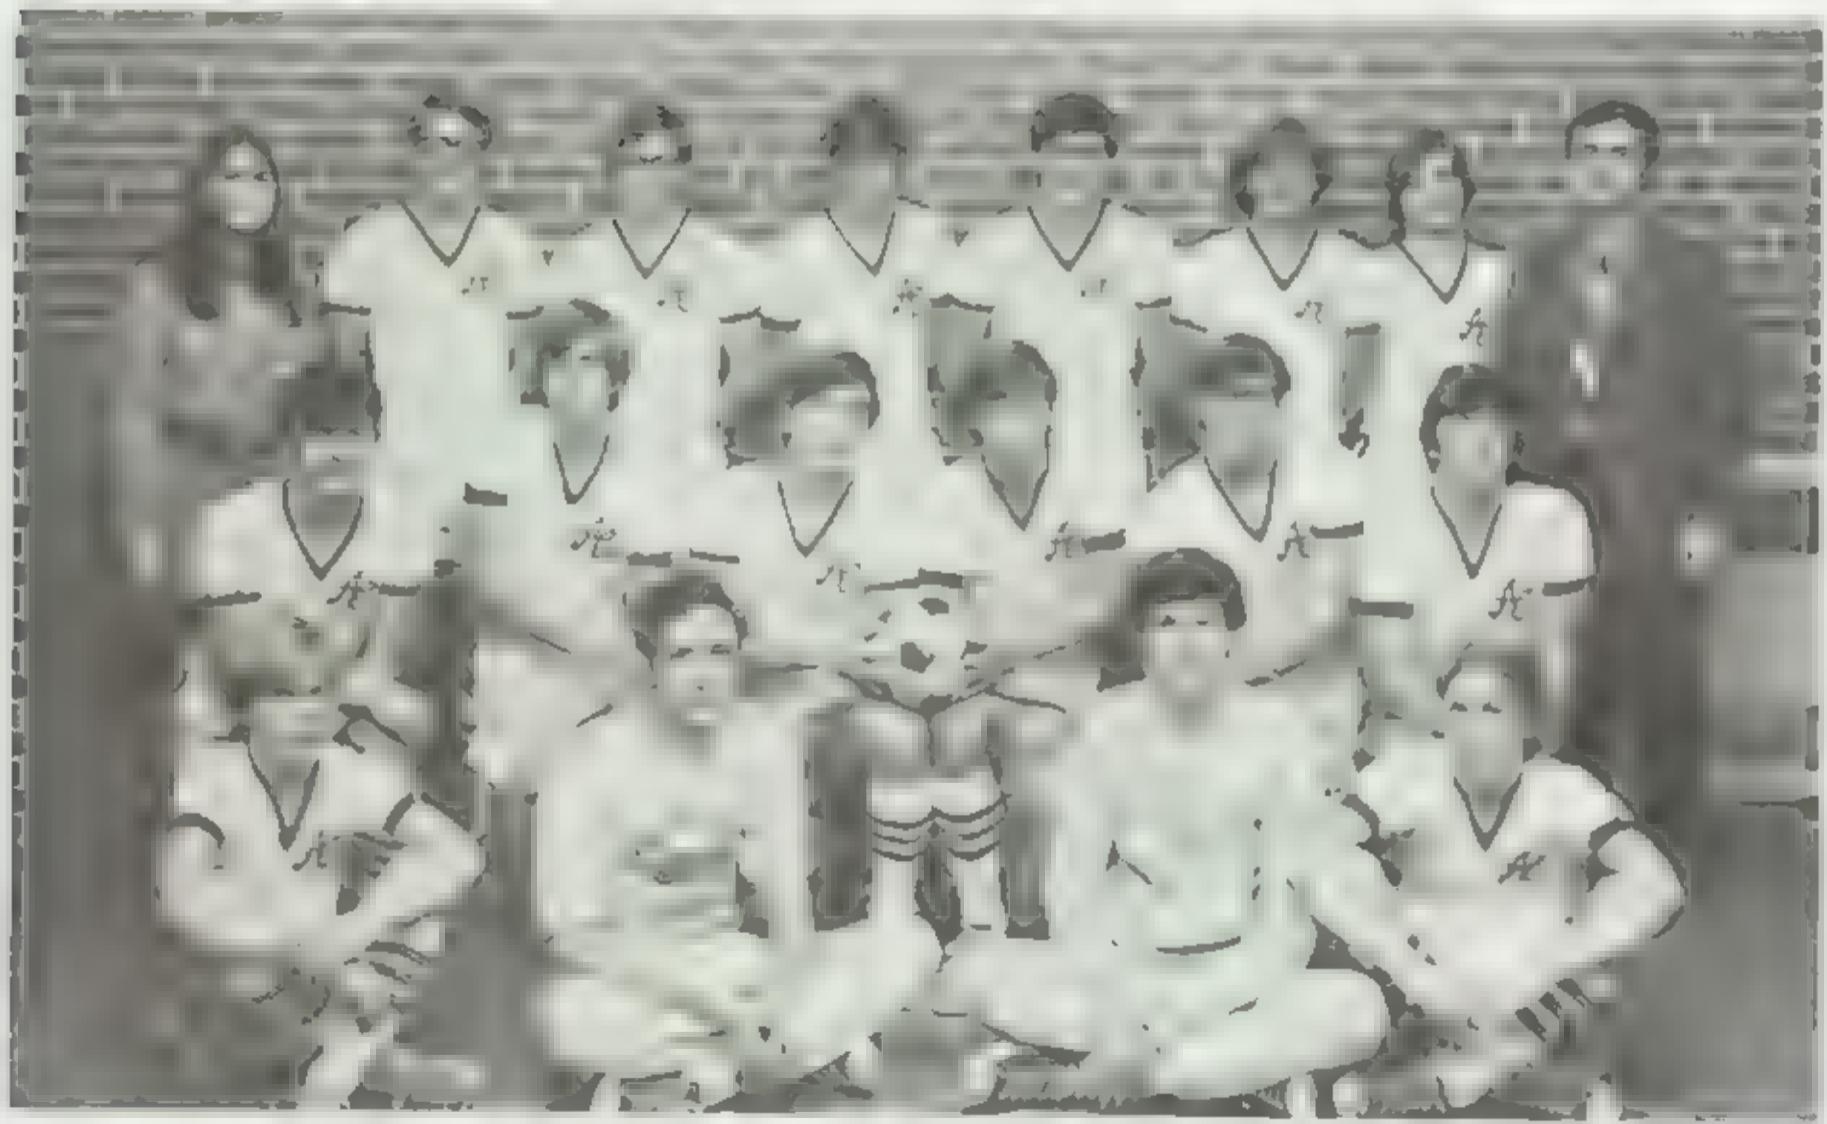

The team held a winning record of five wins, two losses, and one tie in league play, and made a fine showing in the playoff games at the end of each half-season. Winning three out of four games brought the Dutchmen into the first half playoff game where they were defeated by Northeastern 3 to 1. The second half playoff game with Eastern was the best team effort of the entire season. Although our team lost 1 to 0, they out-shot Eastern 23 shots to 10.

Outscored But Not Outfought

What this year's squad lacked in numbers, it had in desire, as the team constantly showed the fiber that has made football the fine game it is. The team's efforts should show results in the coming years at Annville-Cleona. Seniors are, clockwise from top, Dave Watson, Dave Finkbiner, co-captain, Dennis Sattazahn, Ed Hostetter, Ed Posey, co-captain, and Sam Wells.

Football 1971 had its usual share of heroes. Roger Staubach, Bob Greise, and Jim Plunkett all contributed their best to the game. For every man who becomes a star, however, there are countless boys who become men. Here at Annville-Cleona we are justifiably proud of our gridiron team. The task of leading an inexperienced team fell on the shoulders of only a few young men. Co-captains Ed Posey and Dave Finkbiner led the team by their fine example. At no time were they willing to concede. The two led a small group of seniors who recognized the challenge and moved into the battle without faltering. In the final analysis the football record did not accurately measure the quality of individual achievement on the team. Look for the strength gained, the humility imposed, and the desire instilled to become the foundation for future Dutchmen.

Girls' Basketball Teams Enter CAC

This year the girls' basketball squads entered their first season of Capital Area Conference competition with a young team under the direction of a new coach. Although the record fell somewhat short of pre-season expectations, girls' basketball at Annville-Cleona has a bright future. The team loses only three seniors, Diane Folk, Brenda Blauch, and Bobbie Rothenberger, and looks forward to the return of top scorers Jo Meyer, Deb Herr, Lucy Lingle, and Cheryl Brandt, who will provide skill and leadership in the coming year.

KNEELING: L. Hoshower, B. Blauch, D. Folk, D. Herr, H. Garber, J. Meyer STANDING: D. Newman, B. Rothenberger, G. Longenecker, L. Lingle, E. Snavely, C. Brandt, A. Hamm, Mrs. Oller (coach)

The senior trio of the girls' basketball team this year consisted of Brenda Blauch (kneeling), Bobbie Rothenberger (standing), and Diane Folk.

Led by Jeanne Buchmoyer with a high of 66 points the junior varsity team registered 6 wins this season. Jeanne and freshmen Laurie Stranick, Sherry Rauch, Beth Sherman, and Linda Sorrentino formed the nucleus of this year's junior varsity and will provide much talent for the Annville-Cleona varsity in years to come.

Three seniors led this year's squad, Ken Bomgardner and Tony Ebersole, co-captains, and Ed Hostetter, a first year wrestler. These three young men together with an inexperienced team performed quite well in spite of a tough schedule. (Below)

Great improvement could be seen from match to match in our squad this year, as the boys obtained more experience. The greatest disappointment occurred when weight classes had to be forfeited from time to time, a fact that indicated the small size of our team. This year was a forward step in the development of wrestling at Annville-Cleona. Both the coaching staff and returning members of the team are anticipating next year's season with much enthusiasm.

Although this year's varsity basketball squad did not finish the season with an outstanding record, the boys on the team deserve credit for the effort they put forth. Paul Kreider, voted most valuable player by his teammates, ended the season with 267 points. Checker Watts, leading rebounder, was chosen as best defensive player. Robby Marquette, elected as the hardest worker, was a valuable playsetter for the team. Next year's outlook is bright, since returning underclassmen like Ed Neidigh, George Hopple, Tim Bowman, and Dave Martin will bring their experience to the team.

Coach Barnhart felt that his team performed well, as it defeated five of its ten CAC opponents despite a lack of height and size in most games. Leading scorers for the team were Jed Dutweiler, 158 points, Gus O'Neal, 147 points, and Craig Kettnering, the squad's best defensive ball player, 129 points.

With a record of seven wins and one loss in non-league competition and six wins and four losses in CAC league competition the Varsity Baseball team finished third overall in the CAC competition of 1972. The team held champion and defending champion in both the Elco and A-C Tournaments and finished the season with a record of thirteen wins and five losses. Ed Krum was chosen as most valuable player in the Elco Tournament, while Tom Imboden was chosen most valuable player for the A-C Tournament.

As the won-loss record indicates the girls had a losing season. This, however, reflects only partially on their ability and even less on their desire. Cathy Horner, Shirley Weidler, Jean Buchmoyer, Bev Chadwick, Karen Rauch, and Jo Meyer played the first five positions on the team. Shirley and Cathy shared the number one seed, while Jean Buchmoyer was the most consistent winner on the team. One of the brightest moments for the team this year was the victory over Tulpehocken during the second half of the season. Next year the team will be entering the Lebanon-Lancaster League and hopefully will have a better season as the record goes.

The final record of the senior track team this year was nine wins and four losses. Despite being the smallest school in the league, the team set high goals and did not let small numbers defeat them. The team was led by a small, loyal band of thirteen seniors. The two highest scoring seniors were Blake Caldwell with $79\frac{1}{4}$ points and Brian Wolfe with 77 points. Bob Micozzi was high scorer for the entire team as well as being high scoring junior along with Richard Sheetz. There were also several individual honors won in meets during the season.

A strong squad this year composed of eight seniors and three juniors, the Varsity Cheerleaders, led by co-captains Sally Shenk and Sharon Shirk, cheered loud and long at A-C's football, soccer, and basketball games. They also alternated wrestling matches with the JV squad. As additional services this year, the cheerleaders also sold programs at the basketball games for the A-C Booster Club, and collected money for the Vince Lombardi fund. With eight seniors leaving the squad this year, Mrs. Ebling, both the Varsity and JV advisor, will have the added burden of replacing this year's great squad with the same kind of enthusiasm and spirit for next year.

Throughout the winter sports season the Junior Varsity Cheerleading squad cheered at J.V. basketball games and wrestling matches. Always ready to lend a hand the JV Cheerleaders also assisted the Varsity squad with the A-C spirit stand at home basketball games. On February 26, 1972, the JV squad captured third place in the Campus Life Cheerleading Competition. These girls should be commended for their fine performance in representing A-C.

Junior High Choruses And Band Develop Musical Talents By Performing In Concerts

Junior High Chorus

Seventh Grade Chorus

Junior High Band

Spring Dance Is One Of Junior High Student Council's Many Projects

Under the direction of Mr. Richard Eschenmann as advisor, the Junior High Student Council strived to further better school relations and policy throughout the school year. Many of their projects included holding a fund raising drive for Biafran refugees, sponsoring the Junior High Field Day, and selling candy at the Junior High basketball games. Three members of the Council, in addition, represented the Junior High student body on the Student-Faculty Advisory Committee. Another project of the council was to sponsor the annual semi-formal dance. This year the dance was held the first week of March, the theme being Flowers and Spring instead of being held as the Valentines' Day dance which had been held in previous years. There was dancing and refreshments served by the Senior High Student Council. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the King and Queen and their court which were elected by the eighth and ninth graders.

Junior High Honor Society, Tri-Hi-Y, And FHA Hold Many Varied Activities

Three of the Junior High clubs, the Honor Society (below), the Tri-Hi-Y (above right), and the FHA (below right), in addition to holding their regular meetings, sponsored many activities this year for the benefit of their members and the other students of the junior high student body. The Honor Society, led by Mr. Lemon, sponsored a dance in February and held an induction ceremony for new members at the end of the year. They also made plans to take a trip to Washington, D.C. The Tri-Hi-Y, advised by Mrs. Gingrich, sponsored a get-acquainted dance at the beginning of the year, sold candy, and held a Christmas party for the kindergarten pupils. In January the FHA, under the supervision of Mrs. Schaffer, accompanied the senior high FHA and FFA groups to the Farm Show in Harrisburg.

Jr. High Clubs Perform Services

SASP and Library Assistants learned to contribute their valuable services around school and town. SASP assembled collection carts for the Cleona recycling program and also investigated the possibility of a program in Annville. The Library Assistants worked during study periods. Shelving books, signing passes, and helping students find magazines were their main services.

The Junior High Cheerleading squad aroused much enthusiasm among the spectators at the Junior High football and basketball games this year. They also cheered at the pep rallies held for the entire student body during activity periods and helped the Varsity and J.V. squads with the spirit stand at varsity basketball games.

Junior High Football Team Gains Valuable Experience

As a first in Annville-Cleona history this year, the Junior High football team played six Capital Conference opponents. Ready for action, tough and domineering, the team slaughtered Milton Hershey in their opening game on the home field. The rest of the season showed increasing experience and promise for next year's team. Completing the season with a 2-3-1 record, the team finished with thirty-six of the forty starting grididers.

This year the Junior High Boys' Basketball squads faced six tough Capitol Area Conference teams in preparation for Senior High competition. Although neither team showed a winning record at the season's close, both gained much experience during the year. The Varsity defeated both Middletown and Palmyra two times and ended its season with a record of five wins and nine losses. The J.V. team ended its season with a record of two wins and twelve losses.

Junior High Enters League Competition

This year's Junior High wrestling team was the first varsity team at the school. Since most of the boys were inexperienced, the team did not win any dual meets but did show steady improvement. All of the boys had the opportunity to compete either in exhibition or varsity matches and five of the boys won awards for their wrestling at the East Shore Junior High CAC Tournament at the end of the season. The ninth graders on the team show promise for next year's varsity

Junior High Captures C.A.C. Championship

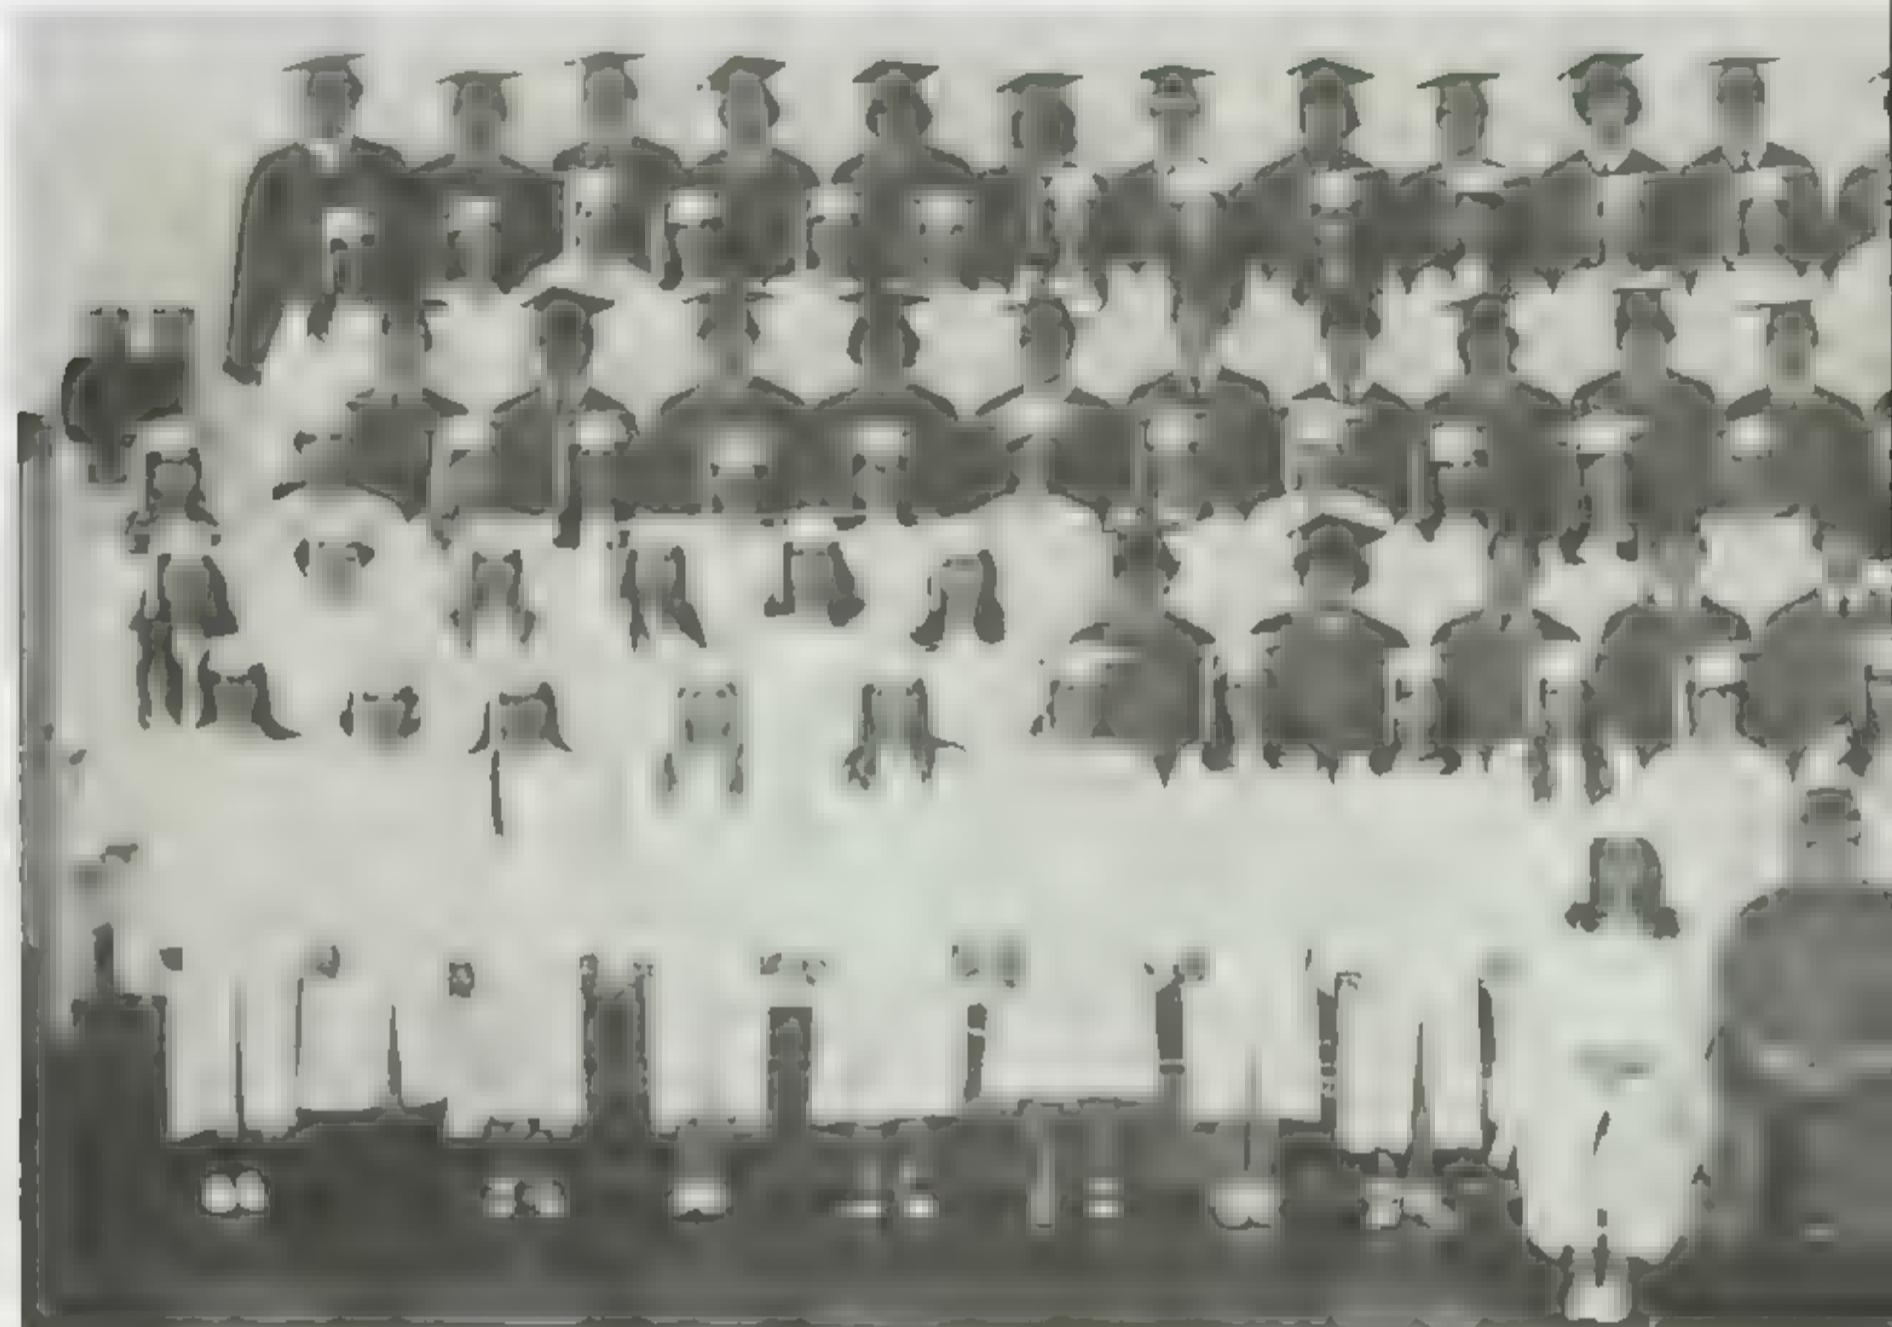

The 1972 edition of the Junior High Track Team defeated twelve consecutive dual meet opponents. In the process the Little Dutchmen captured the C.A.C. Junior High Track Championship. Since A-C joins a new league next season, this championship was their first and last in the C.A.C. Possessing great team depth, the Little Dutchmen in dual meets, outscored the opposition 1201½ to 533½. The high points of the season were the crushing defeat over Palmyra, the come-from-behind conquests of Hershey and Red Lion — two of the best teams in the District Three, and the outstanding success in the Lebanon County Meet.

duating Class of 1972

After Graduation: A Fond Farewell

On Sunday June 4, the 1972 Senior Class Commencement exercises were held in the high school auditorium. Patricia Light, president of the class, presented the address of welcome. Following the address, musical selections were performed by Becky Grant, the Senior Boys' Quartet, and the Senior High Chorus. The commencement speaker, Reverend Horace Sills, was introduced by the supervising principal, Mr. Richard Gingrich. Diplomas were then presented to the class by Mr. Howard Weaver, president of the school board, and Mr. William Magill, the high school principal. Both the invocation and the benediction were given by the Reverend Gary Hockenberg.
